

“We all have to live in the concrete reality of today's world and our vocation obliges us to know the world and learn to interpret it rightly. We need to know and love, in this right sense, the world where do we and those we want to help, live” (Luigia Tincani, 1935).